Hans Harder (ed.): “Literature and Nationalist Ideology. Writing Histories of Modern Indian Languages”

Contents

Hans Harder: Introduction

1. Udaya Kumar: Shaping a Literary Space: Early Literary Histories in Malayalam and Normative Uses of the Past

2. Torsten Tschacher: Drowning in the Ocean of Tamil: Islamic Texts and the Historiography of Tamil Literature

3. Heiko Frese: From Scattered Archives to the Centre of Discourse: Histories of Telugu Literature in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries

4. Ipshita Chanda: Beyond the Nation: A Comparatist’s Thoughts on some Foundational Categories in the Literary Historiography of ‘Post’-colonial South Asian Literatures

5. Sourav Kargupta: Dinesh Chandra Sen’s “The Folk Literature of Bengal”: The Canonization of Folk and the Conception of the Feminine

6. Charu Gupta: Ethics or Aesthetics’ Obscenity as a Category for Evaluating the Hindi Public Sphere in Colonial North India

7. Ira Sarma: George Abraham Grierson’s Literary Hindustan

10. Thomas de Bruijn: A Discourse of Difference: ‘Syncretism’ as a Category in Indian Literary History

11. Stuart Blackburn: Unscripted: The People of Arunachal Pradesh in Literary and other National Histories

12. Hans Harder: Indian Literature in English and the Problem of Naturalisation